The medical Eye camp, was organized with the aim to identify and triage patients in need of cataract surgery who would otherwise not be able to afford the expenses of such an operation. Patients attending the eye camps are first screened by the Eye team and thereafter patients, based on medical eligibility, are then transported to Lions Eye hospital, Delhi, where they undergo cataract removal and receive new state-of-the-art lenses. All surgeries at hospital are provided by a team of eye surgeons. Patients benefit from post-operative checkups and treatment for several weeks following the operation, so they can receive maximum benefit from the surgery.
